

Orlando Sentinel

Sex and the City local fashion events and online retail offers

by: Rod Hagwood

May 18th, 2010 | 11:55 AM

“Sex and the City 2” is porn for fashionistas.

It is THE fashion film of the summer. Even if the Cinderella-sequel is a dud, it's still a big fashion story. Glamazons will ooh and aaah at ever designer outfit... even if the plot is nonexistent.

POSSIBLE SPOILER ALERT: Already we hear that the over-the-top fashion – save for that well-publicized Abu Dhabi vacation – has been calmed down a bit for SATC2. But the franchise's stylist Patricia Field did find a place for the John Galliano for Christian Dior “newspaper” dress from season 3 of the HBO series....so if the movie is porn, then that might be the money shot.

But like any good fashion story, there is a way for you to access the movie – y'know, other than scoffing down Cosmos – and bring a little movie magic into your own reality.

FROM THE SO-ADORABLE-YOU-COULD-JUST-DIE

DEPARTMENT: For all your itty-bitty glam-ettes, The Precious Club has come up with “Future Carrie Bradshaw” tees and onesies available in sizes 6 Months to 4T, both for $16. To order, visit ThePreciousClub.com.

