

Rockin Mama

All About Baby: The Precious Club

January 3, 2010 by Caryn

I fully admit that I'm having so much fun dressing and shopping for our sweet baby girl. If you've ever shopped for baby and children's clothing, than you know that the plethora of adorable attire for girls is never-ending. It's boys that I have a difficult time with! But I think I've managed to find some nice pieces for my son over the past two years.

The Precious Club is an adorable little line of baby and kid's clothing with unique, fun (and slightly cheeky) sayings. You might have noticed a celeb or two's baby wearing a piece from this line. Their onesies and tees are soft and made from 100% cotton. I received the Best Gift Ever onesie (and she truly is the best gift ever!). I washed it (because I wash everything before it goes on my children) and it didn't fade or shrink (which is nice!). Sizing goes from 6 month onesies to size 4 tees and everything is $16.00. I'd love to see the company expand their line to include more designs and sayings, onesies in smaller sizes, and even long-sleeved items (for the winter!). Overall I was impressed with the design and quality but think they could maybe lower the price of their onesies a bit. For more information, just visit their website.

